Corny as Vaudeville

But It's True: Money
Makes the Mare Go

William Feather in Imperial Type Metal magazine. . . Quote: There's an old story about the Irishman who was asked what made the horse-car go. He said it was the nickel that you handed the driver.

In its day, that was a howler. Some years later a student at Vassar college, when asked to state the principle of the telephone, said it was a nickel in the slot.

Neither answer was completely stupid.

In a civilization built around the profit motive, there isn't any activity until there is a satisfactory exchange. Money is the symbol used in making these exchanges.

The passenger of a horse-car doesn't feed the horse a bag of hay and then drive a slice of ham. He gives them the equivalent, so the hay and ham can be purchased and eaten at the end of the day.

A man who thought the Irishman's logic extremely funny also quoted to us, with approval, Walt Whitman's observation: "I will accept nothing except an equal basis."

That appears to be good democratic philosophy, but does it mean anything? Whitman was born with an endowment that was worth the lands and jewels of a prince; he was a natural industrialist. Whitman couldn't share his unique ability to express himself, and Carnegie couldn't share his genius for creating wealth.

A group of street-corner patriots were discussing a "great man."

"He's not a great man," said one. "Why, I've known him since he was a boy."

That settled it for one man, anyway.

Few of us personally know any great men. The people we know are just ordinary. As a rule great men are all dead, and they've been dead a long time. The farther we are from a man in time and distance, the greater he becomes.

Johnson Sticks to Story About Services

Washington, June 28 (UP)—Defense Secretary Louis Johnson said today that reports he plans to destroy the individuality of the three armed services are "a lie."

"Certain people have lied and said that was my intention," Johnson told the house armed services committee. "It was always a lie and it still is a lie."

Johnson said he would welcome a committee inquiry on this point as well as the forthcoming investigation by the house group of the B-36 bomber program.

That is the sort of carping that spread the lie about the B-36, and as far as I'm concerned I welcome the investigation of the question," he said.

Rep. James E. Van Zandt, (R-Pa.) has aimed rumors of irregularities in purchase of the big six-engine strategic bomber.

Johnson appeared before the committee to urge approval of a senate-passed bill which would increase his power to enforce uniformity of the army, navy, and air force.

Aged Prescott Woman Dies on Monday

Mrs. Kate Dillon Ward, 75, Prescott native, died at her home yesterday. She was a member of the Christian church.

Survivors include her husband, Alford Cummings of Prescott and Mrs. Fletcher Parker of Lewisville, a brother, C. S. Dillon of Texas, and three sisters, Mrs. A. L. Porter of Stephenville, Texas, Mrs. L. B. Stuart of Lamesa, Texas and Mrs. S. P. McGuire of Gordon.

Funeral services will be held at the family home at 3 p. m. Wednesday with burial in Prescott Cemetery.

Hit-Run Boat Severs Feet of Swimmer

Reno, June 28 (AP)—A hit-run speedboat pilot amputated a 13-year-old girl swimmer's feet yesterday.

Imogene Wittsche and Janet Lutz, each 13 and from Roseville, Calif., were swimming in Lake Tahoe. Then, said deputy Sheriff F. W. Brenzel.

The speedboat roared close to the beach and shot between the girls. Janet barely got out of the way.

One of Imogene's feet was cut off, presumably by the propeller. The other foot was left dangling by a bit of flesh. It was amputated later at a hospital.

The pilot did not stop. Brenzel said an arrest would be made today.

Imogene is a niece of Los Angeles (Calif.) county's widely known veteran sheriff, Eugene Biscailuz.

WATERSPOUTS KILL GIRL

Manila, June 28 (AP)—Press reports said today two waterspouts had killed a 9-year-old girl and injured nine persons on Bantayan Island, a small island in the central Philippines. Five houses were reported blown down and a fishing launch picked up from its mooring.

Work Starts on Melon Shed and Farm Market

Lyle Brown, Mayor of Hope, turned the first spadeful of earth today officially starting work on the new $2,000 watermelon and produce shed at Hope's new Farmer's market in an informal ceremony this morning. The market area, located on Highway 67 west only 1.5 miles from the heart of Hope will be complete with office, telephone, electricity, and other facilities for handling numerous produce items. Adequate space will be provided for shady parking of all size trucks and it is hoped that the market will be complete by the end of this week.

Other interested watchers were George Robison, President of the Hope Chamber of Commerce, E. W. Copeland, chairman of the Chamber's Agriculture Committee, Frank McLarty who was responsible for raising the necessary funds and materials, Claude Sutton, who owns the land, Dick Erwin, and B. D. Forsythe.

The Farmer's Market, a project of the Agriculture Committee of the Hope Chamber of Commerce is the result of several months' work, the unselfish service and generous donations of many persons and the city of Hope, the State Highway department and the chamber of commerce.

The shed, 32' by 60' will be adequate for 18 trucks at one time, it is estimated. The site, the result of many conferences between farmers, members of the chamber and the city of Hope, was decided upon by the process of elimination from over 11 spots which were under discussion.

Covering several acres of land, the market will be one of the most attractive facilities of its kind in this territory. Wide, safe approaches from the highway are being built by the State Highway department, and several blocks of the streets and parking areas are being graded and gravelled by personnel of the City's Street department under the direction of R. N. Moore.

Plans for the market are supervised by Richard Erwin, who has had considerable experience in the produce business.

The office building, donated by Claude Sutton, will be to the west of the shed, under the trees and will be available for use by growers and buyers to meet.

The City of Hope and the chamber of commerce have long sought a solution to the problem of marketing its famous watermelon and eliminating the traffic hazards and confusions which have been the results of street parking and curb selling in downtown Hope.

Long range plans call for the market area to grow and expand gradually. Claude Sutton will build his new Livestock Auction barn on the site soon, and it is hoped that plans can be worked out for a packing shed for radishes, peas, cantaloupes, beans, and many other truck crops and farm produce in the future.

Materials valued at over 1,500 dollars were donated and labor for construction is being provided by the City of Hope. Warren Gunter, Grayson and Grayson donated lumber, concrete was donated by Paul Lewis, hardware and nails by Hope Lumber Co. and roofing materials by Ritchie Wholesale Grocery, City Lumber Co., Fred D. McNeely, and Hope Builder's supply Co.

C of C Seeks Supply of Large Melons

The Hope Chamber of Commerce is looking for a supply of large melons to fill orders from out of town buyers, it was announced today, by B. D. Forsythe, manager.

Farmers growing melons over 100 pounds are asked to notify the number of melons of the number which they will have available.

Orders are coming in from all over the United States for Hope's huge watermelons, Mr. Forsythe said.

A check for one was recently enclosed by Fred J. Frith, of Pasadena, California for one over 100 pounds and there are many other orders to be filled.

The C. of C. will not buy the melons, but will merely act as go between, putting melon growers in touch with customers, so that buyer and seller can complete negotiations themselves.

War Hero to Be Returned for Burial

The body of Pfc. Hoyett B. Rinehart, son of Mrs. Callie Rinehart of Patmos Rt. 1, will arrive here Thursday at 1:45 p. m. for reburial. Young Rinehart was killed in action in France June 21, 1944.

Services will be held Friday, July 1, at 2:30 p. m. at Providence, 10 miles south on Highway 29 with burial, in charge of American Legion, in Betts Cemetery.

Production of canned meat totaled 1,099 million pounds in 1947, most of it being pork products.

New Woman Treasurer Calls on Truman

Washington, June 28 (AP)—Mrs. Georgia Neese Clark called at the White House today to thank President Truman for her appointment as the nation's first woman treasurer.

The Kansas-born banker and former actress told reporters her call was strictly a formal one to express her appreciation.

Liberals Win By Landslide in Canada

Ottawa, June 28 (UP)—Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent's mid-dle-of-the-road Liberal party won the greatest landslide victory in Canadian election history today, soundly defeating both Conserva-tive and left wing opposition.

Almost complete returns from yesterday's national parliamentary election gave the Liberals 191 out of 262 seats. They were leading in two other districts.

The Progressive Conservative party led by George Drew, former premier of Ontario, which had staged a vigorous campaign, won only 41 seats.

In the previous parliament the Liberals had 125 seats and the Progressives 69.

The left wing commonwealth co-operative federation which held 32 seats before, toppled to a mere skeleton of a national party, winning only 12 seats.

Minor parties were winning the other 16 places in parliament.

Most impressive in the Liberals' triumph was their showing in the province of Quebec where Drew had predicted his Progressive Con-servative would make substantial gains.

There the PC party elected only one member.

And in the conservative strong-hold of Ontario, the Liberals over-turned a score of tory districts, beating their opponents three to one for all the seats in the province.

The Labor Progressive (Com-munist) party was given a crushing defeat. Even LP leader Tim Buck was defeated in his own bid to return to parliament, losing to a Liberal candidate in his Toronto-Trinity district.

Britain Looks to Dominions for Support

London, June 28 (UP)—Britain, facing a major economic crisis and battered by its Marshall plan neighbors, looked to its dominions today for help and support.

The labor government invited finance ministers of the common-wealth countries to an emergency meeting in London within two weeks to discuss means of stem-ming the drain on the sterling area's gold and dollar reserves.

Britain and other sterling area countries have turned to the United States with increasing frequency into their reserves to make up the difference between the income from their exports and the bills for their imports.

The strain on the reserves has been increasing alarmingly in the last few months despite help from Marshall plan funds.

Just how fast the reserves have been dwindling will be disclosed when the new figures are published early next month. Financial quarters believed the figures might be alarming enough to set off a panic.

Britain acts as banker for the whole sterling area, and any British collapse would bring financial disaster to many commonwealth countries.

Chancellor of the exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps, already nicknamed "Old Austerity" for the tough economies he has imposed on Britain, is expected to present to his commonwealth colleagues a plan for further reducing British imports to save dollars.

Arkansas Has Its 100th Polio Case

Little Rock, June 28 (UP)—Arkansas racked up its 100th polio case of the year today as well as its fourth polio death.

Eddie Chambliss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ulysses Chambliss of Paragould, died at a Little Rock hospital late yesterday.

His death was the second to death among official claims that the incidence of polio is occurring earlier than normal and adds to their hopes that it may reach its peak earlier.

Dr. T. T. Ross, state health officer, expressed the belief that the isolation ward at the University hospital in Little Rock can handle the acute cases "unless the situation gets worse."

He said that facilities for caring for non-infectious and convalescent cases have been set up by the Arkansas crippled children's hospital and the crippled children's hospital at Jacksonville.

But it turned out 16 bankers, 31

Business Slump Brings Drop in Production - Big Companies Will Be the Hardest Hit

By CHARLES MOLONY

Washington, June 28 (AP)—The nation's production machine has been throttled down to its slowest pace in three years, and no end to the slowdown has yet been sighted.

The federal reserve board re-ported a 10.8 per cent fall in pro-duction from last November's peak to the end of May. The board said another 2 to 3 per cent drop is indicated for June.

Production is coming down with prices, and accompanying factory closings or slowdowns are boosting unemployment in the process.

The reserve board's report yes-terday said output in May was maintained 74 per cent above the av-erage for prewar 1935-39. But it was nearly three per cent under April and more than nine per cent below May, 1948.

Meanwhile, there was no agree-ment over just how serious the nation's economic situation is. Sec-etary of Commerce Charles Sawyer and a man who once held that cabinet post, Henry Wallace, dis-puted the point in a radio debate last night.

Sawyer insisted we are "still in an era of prosperity such as we have not enjoyed in our history," despite declining business and in-creasing joblessness.

Wallace, on the other hand, said the country is in bad shape eco-nomically and President Truman should be doing something to "re-store prosperity."

Sawyer and Wallace clashed over the accuracy of the unemployment figures of the census bureau, a branch of the commerce depart-ment. Sawyer assured Wallace the figures now are "given out on the same basis that was in effect when you were secretary of commerce."

Chairman Hugh D. Scott, Jr., said the country is in the "first stages of a Truman depression." He told newsmen the GOP will capitalize on the unemployment situation in next year's election campaign.

Let's look at some of these pros-pects, starting at the indigo bot-tom of the industrial rainbow and working upward the rosy top.

Gloomiest outlooks just now are for steel, other metals, coal and, as a result, for the railroads.

Steel hit its peak in a booming first quarter, is now sliding down-ward, fast, expects to hit bottom the first of next year and start back up in the spring quarter. It hasn't trimmed prices much yet.

Non-ferrous metals cut prices drastically after demand died in March. A number of mines have closed. Others are working at a loss.

Work week. Many feel the worst will be over by August or Sep-tember but doubt if their pulse will be really strong again before next spring.

Coal mine over-production piled large supplies on the ground. Cold weather will help, but whether costs and prices can be brought down to help coal in its competi-tive fight with fuel oil and natural gas depends a lot on what comes out of the talks with John L. Lewis.

Railroad carloadings average lower this year. They are pretty well reconciled to having traffic fall off still more the last half, but they pray for freight rates to offset it. Truck and barge com-petition bites deeper into their busi-ness with each rate increase.

Industries farther along the re-adjustment trail but still having their troubles are furniture, cloth-ing, shoes, textiles, retail trade and the airlines.

Arkansas Pilot Killed in Missouri Crash

Noosho, Mo., June 28 (AP)—The CAA yesterday began an investi-gation into the crash of a light plane near here in which a Hope Springs, Ark., man was killed.

Killed instantly in the crash was Ellery Shelton Womack, 34, resident of the area. The plane, a high-wing patrol trooper the state had been circling for some time before the crash and that its en-gine was sputtering.

Agents of the CAA from Spring-field, Mo., are investigating the crash.

Captain Dorsey R. Fuller, Com-manding Officer of Company "A," 153rd Infantry, Arkansas National Guard, announced today that the troops would meet tonight, June 28, for Army Drill. All members are urged to attend.

Old Eli's Sons of 1924 Are Doing Fine But Wonder What Happened to Frank Merriwell

By HAL BOYLE
New York (AP)—Ever wonder what happened to good old Frank Merriwell after he left Yale?

He seems to have been lost in the crush of years, but a number of Old Eli's other sons have done right well for themselves.

Yes, sir, the lads who stayed up all night a quarter of a century ago singing "boo, boo!" can sleep late now because they are making plenty of "mooh, mooh."

The class of 1924 has done all right for itself. In fact I have come to the conclusion, after study-ing some statistics compiled for the class's 25th reunion this year, that one of the signs of a misssip-pian is not to have been graduated from Yale university the year Cal-vin Coolidge was elected president.

These highly secret figures were smuggled to me by a rival friend who sent them here, hidden in an old pumpkin, via an intermediary.

The man traveled on a coach car of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railway to avoid detec-tion.

The statistics show that 25 years after leaving Yale's Ivory tower the boys have an average earned income of $17,210 and an average income from all sources of $25,111. The largest single income was a tidy $400,000.

The boys have turned out to be good steady husbands. They carry an average of $38,282 in life in-surance—enough to cheer any prospective widow. Some 71 per-cent have one or more servants and only 7.1 percent have wives who work outside the home.

More than 82 percent have never been fired from a job and 12.2 percent were only fired once. The class of 1924 produced only one clergyman, one coroner, one newspaperman and one man willing to describe himself as a philanthropist.

But it turned out 16 bankers, 31

Dyes Used to Mark Diapers Fatal to Babies

Lake Wales, Fla., June 28 (UP)—

An official investigation was under way today into the deaths of four newborn babies in three days at a hospital using diapers marked with bluish-purple ink.

The case may be given to a grand jury after laboratory sam-ples of the ink, containing aniline dye, are tested.

The journal of the American Medical association said that four doctors warned last month—after 63 cases and five deaths were re-ported—that aniline dyes used by laundries to mark diapers could kill babies.

The doctors said the aniline may be absorbed through the skin, pro-ducing cyanosis through con-version of hemoglobin to methemo-globin, a non-oxygen-carrying pig-ment.

A fifth baby at the Lake Wales hospital was stricken by the mys-terious malady, that turns infants "a bluish color" but was reported in fair condition. It was given blood transfusions.

The AMA journal quoted the doc-tors as warning "against the haz-ard of aniline intoxication in in-fants, particularly premature in-fants. They said newborn babies are particularly susceptible to a diminished supply of oxygen and hence even slight degrees of me-themoglobinemia may be serious."

They said the danger can be eliminated by boiling diapers after they are stamped and thoroughly drying them before use. The di-apers used at the hospital here re-portedly were not washed after marking.

The fourth infant, Louis Edward Lamb, died at the Lake Wales hospital last night, where one baby died Saturday, another Sunday and a third early yesterday.

State Attorney Walter W. Wool-folk has visited the hospital and obtained a sample of the aniline dye used in marking diapers worn by the infants, it was learned, in-dicating that there may be a grand jury investigation.

ent of the hospital, said she ir-risibly, a baby, superintend-ent, that the illness is caused by the marking dye. But the cause of the deaths has not been definitely determined.

She said the laundry which han-dles the hospital's diapers asked that the hospital be notified of any and sent over some marking ink containing aniline oil, in a soft drink bottle.

Man Admits Cruel Murder of Little Boy

Lansing, Mich., June 28 (AP)—The cruel death of tiny Walter (Peewee) Beatty, an official list-ed as solved today in a neighbor's volunteered confession.

Four-year-old Walter's slaying, which shocked this capital city of Michigan, was charged to mus-terhead Deputy Beatty, 28, father of four children.

Haggard and nervous, Beatty walked into police headquarters yesterday.

"I want to give myself up," he said. Police Inspector Paul Taylor said that Beatty, an unemployed factory worker, then blurted out a story of luring "Peewee" to his death Thursday night in a dark vacant lot.

The urchin's throat was slashed with a broken beer bottle. Authori-ties said he also was abused sexually.

"I know him and his family. I don't know why I did it," Taylor said. Beatty told him.

"I don't know," he repeated. "I been drinking."

Estranged from his own family, Beatty has lived in a cheap roomy-ing house a block from Walter's home.

He knew Walter's foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Eaton, and had been drinking beer earlier that night with the boy's real father, Alfred Jones.

The Eaton had adopted Walter as an infant to help the fatherless boy live in a strained cir-cumstances.

Inspector Taylor said Beatty did not admit in his statement a sexual offense against Walter but conceded that he might have made "improper advances."

Hearing on Crash of Airliner Set for July 13

Memphis, Tenn., June 28 (UP)—Leon Tanguay of Fort Worth, Tex., chief civil aeronautics board investigator on the scene, said today that July 13 has been set as the tentative date for a public hearing on the crash of an Ameri-can Airlines twin-engine con-vair last Wednesday.

"The on-the-scene investigation is completed," Tanguay said. "But we are not certain that all the in-formation we need will be in by July 13."

He said that American Airlines still is waiting for "favorable weather conditions" before making a test flight to simulate conditions of the near-fatal flight. Engines of the crashed plane, meanwhile, have been shipped to Tulsa, Okla., for inspection.

The Convaair crashed-landed with 44 aboard shortly after takeoff when the right engine went dead. Thirty-seven were injured.

Father of AP Writer Carl Bell Dies in Washington

Washington, June 28 (AP)—War department employee Carl K. Bell, father of Associated Press newsman, Carl K. Bell, Jr., Little Rock, died here yesterday follow-ing a short illness. He was 63.

A native of Waldron, Ark., Bell had lived in Fayetteville, Ark., for many years.

In addition to his son, Bell is sur-vived by his wife and a sister, Mrs. Margie McKinnis, Poteau, Okla.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon in Fayetteville. The body will arrive there Fri-day.

Berlin's Railway Workers End 38-Day Strike

Berlin, June 28 (AP)—Berlin's 38-day rail strike came to an end today as strikers went back to their jobs and the Soviet-directed management resumed control of the West Berlin stations.

Traffic did not resume immedi-ately. The management prepared to direct the rail over the tracks, which had been idle since May 21, when 14,000 anti-Communist em-ployees struck.

Western railroaders said a few hours work on signals, switches and torn-up trackage was needed to get the freight yards in service again.

The Soviet management said it would have to send inspection teams around before allowing in-ternational freight trains to roll. The four occupation powers meanwhile got ready for another try at breaking Germany's eco-nomic deadlock.

The deputies of the four military governors met at 3 p. m. (7 a. m. CST) in the flag-decked Allied con-trol authority building in the U. S. sector. It was their first meeting in the building in 15 months. Their aim is to lay down guidelines for a "way of living together" which will permit trade between the East and West zones and the sectors of Berlin.

The consultants included Lt. Gen. Mikhail D. Gerasimov, the Soviet Union; V. S. Semyonov, the Soviet Union; Maj. Gen. George P. Hays, politi-cal adviser; J. W. Riddleberger and Brig. Gen. Charles Gailey, United States.

The signal ending the rail strike came, western sector police who manned the stations after vi-olence had claimed two lives, with-drew. They were replaced by So-viet sector rail police.

The strike was ended by a west-ern allied order Saturday direct-ing the workers to accept a com-promise offer of 60 per cent pay in West marks. This total will be raised to 100 per cent by the West Berlin city government.

Lewis' 3-Day Week Plan to Be Rejected

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., June 28 (AP)—Coal operators of the North and West were reported ready to reject today John L. Lewis' offer to forego a strike next month in return for a three-day work week.

The question was taken up in a private huddle in Pittsburgh.

There was little doubt of their answer—that they could not agree because of the legal risks. They fear to lay down guidelines for limiting the work week, they would run the chance of government ac-tion under the anti-trust laws, on the ground it would restrain trade.

But many operators here and elsewhere seemed to like the idea. They said privately that they might go for it if it could be ac-complished without legal risk, or without committing them too much to giving Lewis control over the in-dustry's output.

On the other hand, a spokesman for the central Pennsylvania coal association said his group was against the proposal because it was too costly. He said mines would have to be kept in shape for full production, although actually operating only at about 50 per cent capacity.

Publicly, the operators and Lewis wouldn't even discuss the plan. The operators planned to hand their formal answer to Lewis when the bargaining conference resumes here at 3 p. m. (EST).

There were reports that some sort of a counter-proposal would be offered the bushy-browed union leader.

Local Station Preparing for Visiting Day

Activity is humming at the local University of Arkansas Branch Experiment Station which is pre-paring to entertain this week's guests this week at its annual visiting and study day.

Special study days are planned for 4-H club groups from 20 coun-ties on Wednesday and Thursday, June 29 and 30.

Principal speaker for the study day which will be held Friday, July 1, will be Dr. Lewis Webster Jones, president of the University of Arkansas.

Church Wiped Out By Reds Vatican Charges

Vatican City, June 28 (UP)—The Vatican announced today that the Romanian Communist regime had wiped out the Catholic hier-archy in Romania by arresting an archbishop and a bishop, the only two prelates who escaped the campaign on the church last au-tumn.

The official Vatican news ser-vice reported that Archbishop Aaron Marton of Alba Iulia was ar-rested June 21, and Bishop Anton Durcovici of Iasi was seized Sun-day.

Aged Romeo Entangled By Legal Woes

Chicago, June 28 — (AP) — Stigmata, the pint-sized, over-60-year-old, who claims he swindled women all over the world for more than a million dollars, was today in a New York City court, charged with a $55,000 fraud charge.

Chicago courts had legal priority in the case, but the federal government, which had indicted Stigmata in 1947, wanted to keep him there until he was tried on the federal charge.

But in case the 70-year-old Engel would be free, was involved in three other cases, the federal government wanted to keep him there until he was tried on the federal charge.

Engel, although confident he will be free, was involved in three other cases, the federal government wanted to keep him there until he was tried on the federal charge.

President Not to Order Probe of FBI

Washington, June 28 — (AP) — A White House spokesman today said President Truman has no intention of ordering an investigation of the FBI and its operating methods.

The national lawyers guild had proposed an inquiry. The FBI has been criticized in some quarters since disclosure of some of its secret papers in the Judith Coplon espionage trial.

The presidential aide, who would not be quoted by name, told reporters there is no prospect the President will do anything at all about the suggested inquiry.

Will Try to Prove Money Was Motive

New York, June 28 — (UP) — Prosecutor Edward J. Robinson Jr. planned to call more friends of slain widow Janet Ely to testify today in his effort to prove it was money, not sex, madness, that caused Raymond Fernandez, 34, and Mrs. Martha Beck, 29, to become "lonely hearts" killers.

Robinson said he hoped to introduce the confessions which the two lovers made to Michigan police earlier this year when they gave the details of how they killed the Albany widow in Valley Stream, N. Y., Jan. 3.

The two were arrested three months ago in Grand Rapids, Mich., where they confessed the slaying of another widow, Delphine Downing, 28, and her daughter, Rainelle, 3.

Under Michigan law they faced a maximum sentence of life imprisonment for murder. But when they were extradited to New York to face death in the electric chair, they refused to discuss their crimes further with police.

Defense Attorney Herbert E. Rosenberg declared yesterday in his opening statement to the jury that it was Mrs. Beck who killed Mrs. Ely and that Fernandez did not report it to police "because they were so involved sexually that it was impossible for them to act as normal persons."

Rosenberg painted a sordid picture of Mrs. Beck's life since she was "molested by a man" when she was 10 years old, "raped" when she was 13 and became pregnant from "incestuous relations."

He said she was "left at the altar several times" besides being married three times.

Mrs. Julia Seabrook of Pensacola, Fla., Mrs. Beck's gray-haired mother sat in the front row of the air-conditioned courtroom during the recital. She showed no emotion.

Negro Working Women's Club in Election Meeting

DOROTHY DIX Wealth or Love

Dear Miss Dix: Please advise me. A wealthy man is madly in love with me. He is burdened by a wife and four small children whom he has ceased to love. He could give me all the luxuries a woman craves. I dearly love a poor but hard-working man and it will be years before he could give me anything more than a living. What shall I do?

Answer: If you want to be happy, marry your poor sweetheart and save your heart and your soul.

Unless you are as hard as a rock and are utterly lacking in conscience you will never find any contentment in a home, no matter if it is a palace, that you have built on the ruins of another woman's home. I have seen many women who have been seduced by a man who was sitting pretty in a house that she knew belonged by rights to a sister woman.

Always the woman is thinking of that other woman of whom her husband wearies and wondering if he will forsake her some day for a younger and fresher face. Always she is thinking that he abandoned the children he had brought into the world and wondering if he would turn his back on her children as casually as they were so many alley cats.

Of course I can understand how alluring to a poor girl are fine clothes, a fine car and a fine house. The things she has always wanted and has never had. She thinks it would be perfect bliss not to have to get up in the morning and punch a time clock in a store or office. Not to have to stand behind a counter or pound a typewriter. Above all, to be able to buy imported finery instead of selling it.

GOP Vice Chairman Quits Committee, Blasts Scott

Washington, June 28 (AP) — Vice Chairman Thomas E. Coleman quit the Republican strategy committee today with a blast at GOP national chairman Hugh D. Scott, Jr., for failure to keep the group "moving along."

"The responsibility must be yours," the vice chairman said. Coleman's step was a blow to party "harmony" that Scott has been publicly stressing since he won a 54 to 50 vote of confidence and kept his job at a January meeting of the GOP national committee in Omaha.

The 23-member strategy committee, which Scott heads, was formed at Omaha. It grew out of agreement that the party needed new machinery to put over its view point.

Scott had called the group into session here today for the first time since its organization April 24.

In 1948, the average American ate 145 pounds of meat.

MINE CHOICE—Northern coal operators, in a move to combat John L. Lewis' "divide and conquer" strategy, plan to name a single negotiator for the soft coal industry. Harry M. Moses, above, president of the H. C. Frick Coal Co., has been offered the job and is considering it. Northern operators' spokesmen stressed the fact that the new negotiator, would in no sense be a "czar."

Sweater Girl Title 'Wrested' From Lana Turner

Hollywood, June 28 — (AP) — Jane Greer won the title of "sweater girl" of 1949, a new finish. So says President Bob Landry of the motion picture photographers' association, which had the difficult task of making the selection from a considerable array of talent.

Although it was ten years ago that Lana Turner was crowned the first sweater queen, she still ranked in second place this week.

However, said Landry, "Jane Greer won the title because, on looking at the situation over carefully, we decided that she has the greatest amount of chest appeal."

you the most priceless thing in the world — love.

Dear Miss Dix: I have a friend, a bachelor of 45, who was an illegitimate child and who says that he will never marry so that when he is found the stigma upon his name will be eliminated. The quotes: "The iniquities of the fathers shall be visited upon the children unto the third and fourth generations." What is your opinion of the position of the illegitimate in the sight of God and the eyes of the world?

Answer: I think that God must look down with a particularly pitying tenderness on illegitimate children, because they are made to suffer so cruelly for sins they did not commit, and I consider that there is nothing more inhuman and nothing of which we should be so heartily ashamed as the attitude that we make, the weak, erring mortals, guilty of so many wrong ourselves, take toward these unfortunate.

Certainly lack of charity and kindness can go no further than making a poor little innocent child pay the price of its mother's frailty and putting upon it a stigma that follows it through life, but fortunately we are getting more tolerant and broad-minded and the harsher is not the shame now that it used to be. In some states laws have enacted that give an illegitimate child the right to share his father's estate. And the children of unmarried mothers are not the outcasts that they once were.

I think that you friend takes the status of his birth too seriously, and that the fact that he has made a fine man of himself is of much more importance than if he had had a regular father.

Dear Miss Dix: I married a man I worshipped, but the more I loved the colder he became. My devotion made him think that he must be a very fortunate man with the fair sex and he became a philanderer and finally left me. Now I am married to a man of whom I am merely fond and he worships me. This has taught me that the way to keep a husband is not by spoiling him and loving him too much, for no man can bear a woman's worship without a growing sense of independence and indifference.

A man cannot be chased any more after marriage, than before unless you want to chase him out the front door. I am happy because I do not worry and work myself into a stew as a woman will when she is not sure of her husband. Nor do I wonder where my darling is if he is fifteen minutes late for dinner. I do not suffer the heartache of working and cooking all day to make him comfortable and then have the One and Only savagely snarl at me when I've been doing to make myself look like such a rag. Nor do I have the disappointment of wearing my prettiest frock to the theatre and then have husband admire the stunning brunette two rows ahead of us all evening.

So I say that it is better for a woman to be loved than to love.

WIFE NO. 2.

Answer: The proof of the pudding is in the eating and no one can doubt that there is great happiness and peace in a wife knowing that she is IT with her husband and that she doesn't have to make any special effort to hold him and that he never sees any of the platinum glances that he encounters in his daily walks abroad and in his office.

But sometimes it isn't all cakes and ale to be the favorite wife. Nothing is more boring than to be loved by a person to whom you are indifferent and there are no kisses so flat as those from the lips that leave you cold. The woman who loves may have her anxieties and her jealousies and her moments of torture, but she also has her hours of rapture and something in her life that makes it full of interest and that keeps her on her tiptoes.

Arguments Are Closed in Coplon Case

Washington, June 28 — (AP) Judith Coplon's defense against espionage charges is "hocus-pocus," a government prosecutor told the jury today in closing arguments.

The description was given by Raymond P. Whearty, an assistant attorney general, leading off the final pleas by lawyers.

Defense Attorney Archibald Palmer was next man up, in support of the former justice department political analyst's plea that there was nothing wrong in her possession of material from secret government files when she was arrested in the company of a Russian, Valentine A. Gubitchev. There was a brief recess after Whearty spoke and before Palmer opened his address.

John M. Kelley, Jr., another prosecutor, had the assignment to close out the pleas later in the day.

Besides his description of the defense as "hocus-pocus," Whearty called it "fishy" and "fictitious."

He specifically avoided any call on the jury for conviction of the tiny brunette.

But he argued that the government's evidence is sufficient to show guilt beyond "reasonable doubt."

Talking almost in a conversational tone, Whearty reviewed the evidence step by step.

He said it is his view that Miss Coplon actually passed something to Gubitchev in New York on the night of Feb. 18. He stressed, however, that the government was unable to offer direct evidence that this was so.

He reviewed the testimony of FBI agents who said they saw Gubitchev walk up to Miss Coplon in the Washington Heights area, that she opened her purse and that Gubitchev reached in front of her, after which they separated.

Whearty also reviewed in detail what he called the "maneuverings" of the defendant and Gubitchev on Feb. 18 and again on March 4 just before they were arrested.

CLIPPED ANGEL

Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

The Story: Mike McTair, a mining engineer, is working for beautiful, high-spirited Cory Parcell, trying to find out why the mine she inherited from her father has fallen off in production. Mike, with his ideas about women and mining, believes the mine is playing out. After checking figures of Riggs, the mine assayer, Mike secretly takes some samples and ships them to his own office for another assay. But as he starts to ship the ore he notices that the knots on the sample bags had been tampered with. So Mike returns to the mine and takes another sampling and labels these "Lot A" to distinguish from Lot B, which he had obtained previously. Afterwards he has a talk with "Uncle Jake" Whinnaker, who has been with the mine for many years. Uncle Jake says that if the mine plays out, it won't be easy for him to start somewhere else.

Next morning I was still feeling sorry for Uncle Jake and his forlorn attempt to smile when he said he hoped I'd find a new vein. It was likely he knew how to run the Dark Angel because he'd grown old with it. But put him in unfamiliar surroundings and he'd be lost. He was the faithful servant, worn out in the service of his employer, and now facing disaster through no fault of his own. Either that — or he was a marvelous actor. But thoughts of Uncle Jake vanished when Effie phoned me the assay results. I was waiting for I copied them down:

Lot A	Lot B
$4.79	$15.43
5.18	17.01
4.72	14.35
5.50	18.27
Averages $5.05	16.49

"Effie," I said, "you've no idea how interesting that is. Goodby, and thanks." I thought it over and made up my mind. I would have to tell Cory. She was paying the bill and she was owed information, and it was better to give it to her in spoonfuls than in one indigestible lump at the end. I found Cory in her private office checking smelter returns. "How'd you like to take a walk in the country," I said. She smiled. "All right."

The truth was I wanted to get out where I knew there were no eavesdroppers within a mile. Another reason was mine. It's not often a person runs into dirty work in my trade, and I felt the need of some clean mountain air. "Where to?" she asked.

"Upstairs," I pointed to the aerial tramway running up the side of Umbrella Mountain. Before the gravity chutes were cut through inside the mine, the tramway transported ore down to the mill, but now it was used only to carry the crews to the upper workings.

We sat in the cage and floated through the air to the top level, and then we got out and scrambled up another 500 feet to a ledge of rock. Cory flopped down on some dry moss and I sat beside her in the warm morning sunlight.

The billous gray of the tailings dump was softened by distance and the dark green of the fir-clad hills was slashed with Autumn scarlet and gold. The country was beautiful. I felt like abandoning then and there on my three-month Dark Angel and starting right holiday.

Cory lay back on the moss with a little sigh of contentment. "Last time I was up here," she said lazily, "I shot a bear — broke his back with the first shot." I groaned. "Cory don't you ever have a weak moment when you feel you'd like to depend on some mere man?" She chuckled and at up. "I'm depending on you right now, Mike. Why did you want to come up here?"

I pulled the papers from my pocket and spread them on the moss. "Assay results. This" — I pointed to the first set of figures — "is what I got from Riggs. Average value $4.82 per ton, from the Lepid samples Archie Trask and I got Tuesday afternoon."

She nodded. "That's about what it's been running." "And this," I pointed to the "Lot A" figures Effie had given me — "is from the second sampling, the ones I took myself and which we took into Driscoe to the express office. Average value $5.05 in other words, near enough to Riggs' figures to matter."

She nodded again. "It just goes to show, Mike, you have a nasty, suspicious nature. And it shows, too, that I've been a stubborn fool about the whole thing."

"I'll settle for stubborn," I said.

God. Before becoming General Secretary he was District Superintendent of the Eastern District, comprising New York and New Jersey. He is a charter member of the Assemblies of God, which was organized in Hot Springs, Arkansas in 1914. His background consists of pastoral work, camp meeting engagements, youth conferences and considerable executive and administrative work.

Mrs. Flowers, who is generally known as Alice Reynolds Flower, that "being her 'pen name'" has written a number of books, and has a number of volumes of poems to her credit. She is also nationally as an outstanding speaker for youth camps, camp meetings and women's meetings. At the present time she is Second Vice-President of The Women's Fellowship of the National Association of Evangelicals. The ministry of Rev. and Mrs. Flower will be enriched by years of a variety of experiences in church work. Day and night services will be arranged and announced. Special services will be arranged for the ladies and also for young people.

Mrs. Jewel Flower, mother of Rev. J. Roswell Flower, will accompany the Flowers to Hope. "Grandmother Flower" as she is known to all her friends, was a year ago for a month. She made many friends during her brief stay. Her coming will also be welcomed by many of the church members and friends.

She smiled a weak sort of smile. "I don't see that it's much to your sticking around, Mike. That's about as final as anything. You could go on taking samples till doomsday but it wouldn't put commercial ore in the mine. I think I'll tell Doug Weyman to line up that lawyer with the 25 grand."

"Half a minute. There's something else here." I pointed to the assay results of "Lot B." "These," I said, "are figures for samples I took after I dropped you at your place Tuesday night. Average $16.49. In other words, assay figures for samples that haven't been tampered with."

And then I told her about the business of the reefs knots on the sample bags.

Czechs Renew Threat Against Catholics

Prague, Czechoslovakia, June 28 (UP) — Czech Communists renewed their threats against Archbishop Josef Beran today as the government sought to muzzle him with three stringent new anti-church decrees.

The Communist newspaper Mlada Fronta said Archbishop Beran and his bishops "in blind obedience to the Vatican are organizing anti-state activity and demonstrations."

"We will not allow anyone, anywhere in our country to make an effort to disrupt our work under the veil of religious freedom," the newspaper said.

It said the Vatican is "misusing its church authority for disrupting our path to socialism."

The decrees, announced last night, banned further pastoral letters and meetings of the clergy without government permission, and declared illegal the Vatican excommunication of priests who support the government.

They were designed to isolate Archbishop Beran completely from Czechoslovakia's 1,000,000 Catholics by outlawing his directives to them and to their individual priests. They also would outlaw meetings of the board of bishops, which has spearheaded the church's opposition to the nation's Communist rulers.

The anti-excommunication decree warned that the imposition of church punishments on supporters of the government violates the Czech constitution and is punishable according to the appropriate regulations.

It pledged the government's full support to priests excommunicated for supporting it, and said they would continue to exercise their spiritual tasks.

The stage thus has been set for the possible arrest and trial of Archbishop Beran and his bishops if they persist in their defiance of the government.

The new decrees were the government's reply to Archbishop Beran's pastoral letter read in Catholic churches throughout the country last Sunday. The letter indicted the government for a "well-planned and carefully carried out persecution" of the Catholic church.

McMath Not to Take Action on Rowland Ouster

Little Rock, June 28 — (AP) — Jay Rowland will have to pursue a few more legal avenues before Governor McMath will consider his pardon.

This was announced last night by Henry Woods, executive secretary to McMath.

Woods said the governor would not take any action on a pardon for Rowland until the former Hot Springs city attorney had exhausted all possible legal procedures to stay out of prison.

Rowland, convicted of accepting bribes from gamblers and sentenced to 10 years' imprisonment and fined $750, now has a petition for a writ of habeas corpus pending in U. S. district court.

He filed a writ after his appeal to the U. S. Supreme court was turned down.

Rowland is free under a court order pending a hearing on the writ. In his petition, Rowland contends that he had been deprived of his liberty in violation of the U. S. constitution.

Habeas corpus is a legal move questioning the validity of arresting or convicting a person.

Over 11 Million Spent in State on Hospitals

Little Rock, June 27 — (AP) — More than $11,000,000 approximately two-thirds of it in federal matching funds, has been spent or committed for hospital construction in Arkansas during the past two years.

The expenditure has added 1,307 hospital beds, said Moody Moore, director of the state health department's hospital division, who made the report.

Cottonseed Price Support Heads for Congress

Washington, June 28 — (AP) — measure providing for price support on cottonseed headed for congressional action today.

Co-sponsors of the proposal, amendment to pending farm bill, is Rep. Gathings (D-Ark.).

In announcing the amendment, Gathings said expected cotton house agriculture committee will keep the provision in the farm bill when it considers the legislation today.

He told newsmen last night prices on cottonseed have tumbled in recent months but "the amendment would help the growers' lot."

At present there is no provision made for the department of agriculture to support cottonseed prices at a certain level. If the amendment becomes a law, the support base probably would be big as $67.50 a ton, he said.

"This will be a lifesaver for cotton growers," Gathings added.

Only birds and mammals are provided, with an internal heating system.

Bendix Strike Settled After 73-Days

Washington, June 28—(AP)—Secretary of Labor C. Wright Nease today announced that the Bendix strike had been settled. The settlement was reached after 73 days of the strike that has closed the Bendix Aviation Corp. plant at South Bend, Ind., for 70 days.

Terms agreed to by company and United Auto Workers officials were kept secret pending study and a vote by the workers.

Symington told reporters "we were in trouble all over the world on these airplane parts." He said that he had used "no coercion whatsoever" in bringing labor and management officials together.

Reuther, who did not enter the Bendix strike picture until he reached Washington yesterday, said he hoped the 6,100 workers would be able to vote on the agreement tomorrow.

UAW said both parties were fully conscious "of the compelling needs of the air force."

M. E. Ferguson, Bendix president, said he was happy to see the end of the strike.

"We can resume production of very much needed aircraft and airplane parts," he added.

Symington said agreement had been reached on the three major issues involved in the dispute.

Agreement came at 10:15 a. m. after continuous sessions in Symington's office that began early yesterday afternoon.

Symington told reporters "we were in trouble all over the world on these airplane parts."

Reuther, who did not enter the Bendix strike picture until he reached Washington yesterday, said he hoped the 6,100 workers would be able to vote on the agreement tomorrow.

Chemical Co. Must Pay for Crop Damage

Little Rock, June 27 —(AP)—The Arkansas supreme court today held a chemical company liable for damage done by weed-killing dust sprayed from an airplane.

In a wide division of opinion, the majority of the court affirmed a Jefferson circuit court verdict giving Mrs. Virginia C. Wilson and G. E. Taylor judgment for $3,300 against the Chapman Chemical company.

The suit originally was filed against the Elms Planting Co. it charged that the weed-killer, 2-4-D, applied by plane to rice fields on Elms property, drifted and damaged cotton on the farm owned by Mrs. Wilson and rented in 1947 by Taylor.

The weed killing compound is harmful to broad leaved plants, but does not affect narrow leaved plants such as rice and grass, it was brought out in trial testimony.

Most weeds are broad leaved and therefore susceptible to the compound. Cotton is also a broad leaved plant and also is damaged by the chemical.

The jury found the Chapman Chemical Co., which supplied the dust and arranged for it to be applied by plane to the Elms rice field liable for the full amount of damage to cotton on the Wilson farm.

The supreme court today affirmed that verdict in an opinion by Justice Frank G. Smith.

However, Justices J. S. Holt and Ed F. McFadden were of the opinion that the Elms company should be held liable. Justice George Rose Smith dissented on the ground that judgment against the chemical company should be reversed.

The Sevier circuit conviction of Fred Hadaway, Locksburg pool hall operator, on a charge of aggravated assault was affirmed in an opinion by Justice Holt. Hadaway was sentenced to 20 days in jail and fined $100 in connection with fight in his place.

The St. Francis chancery court was affirmed in "a controversy that has been intermittently in litigation since 1896."

In an opinion by Justice McFadden the decree giving Mrs. Nora L. Bates title to 87 acres of St. Francis county land in her suit against Mrs. Eva E. Gibbs was affirmed.

The court enrolled as attorneys part in addition to his present duties as beverage and cigarette supervisor.

The appointments are effective July 1.

Donald R. Wassner of Fayetteville, and Woodrow B. McKnight, Little Rock.

Preacher and Wife Join Fraternity of 'Crazy People'

Jackson, Tenn., June 28 —(UP)—A preacher and his wife today admitted that they have joined the fraternity "of crazy people who think they have seen flying saucers."

The Rev. O. T. Arnett, pastor of Jackson's first Cumberland Presbyterian church, said he and his wife were sitting in their front yard about 9:15 when they spotted two of the saucers overhead.

They were about the size of a man's hat and had a reddish glow, Arnett said.

"They looked like birds at play as they dived and zoomed after one another," he related.

They disappeared, the Rev. Arnett said, in about a minute.

Young Mathias Puts Record on the Block

Tulare, Calif., June 28 —(AP)—Youthful Bob Mathias former Tulare high school star puts his Olympic games prestige and his national A. A. U. decathlon crown on the block tonight and a score of more rivals begin attempts to wrest it from him.

Mathias, at 17 years of age the youngest athlete ever to capture the Olympic title, scoring 7139 points in the games at London last year, is the hero of a two-day celebration here as he goes again against the nation's best in the 10-event competition.

On tonight's schedule are the 100-meter dash, the broad jump, shotput, high jump and 400-meter run. Tomorrow night the 110-meter high hurdles, discus throw, pole vault, javelin toss and 1500-meter run round out the exacting decathlon program.

Conviction of Perjury Thrown Out By Court

Washington, June 27 —(AP)—The supreme court today threw out the perjury conviction of Harold R. Christoffel, former Milwaukee labor leader.

Christoffel was convicted in U. S. District court here on a charge that he falsely told the house labor committee he had never been a Communist or had any Communist connections. He was sentenced to two to six years.

The supreme tribunal ruled 5-4 today that the government in such a prosecution must be able to show positively that a quorum of the house committee was present when Christoffel allegedly committed perjury.

Here's Concrete Again!

YOU can relax on concrete. Nervous tension disappears and you ease your grip on the wheel. Concrete pavement is smooth-riding and safe.

You can stop—quick—and check skidding on concrete, wet or dry. That's because its gritty surface grips tires. At night your headlights give you better, broader visibility because light-colored concrete reflects more light. That means greater safety, fewer accidents.

Concrete pavement is economical, too. It gives more years of uninterrupted service at far less maintenance cost.

Since you pay for paving, Mr. Motorist, with your gas taxes, license fees and other taxes, insist on portland cement concrete, the low-annual-cost pavement that's a pleasure to drive on.
